From Frozen to Spectacular

Kahiki Foods hosts recipe contest in celebration of National Frozen Food Month

COLUMBUS, OH (October 8, 2008)- In celebration of National Frozen Food Month, Kahiki Foods, the leading manufacturer of restaurant quality Asian frozen food, has launched the “Asian Inspirations Recipe Contest.” From October through the end of November, consumers are encouraged to submit an original recipe that combines any variety of Kahiki Foods products with additional ingredients for a chance to win free Kahiki products for a year. Five Grand Prize winners will be chosen and their original recipes will be featured on Kahiki’s web site, www.Kahiki.com.

This contest will allow Kahiki Foods, and all Asian food lovers to get creative with their meals by exploring the numerous spices, flavorings and ingredients that go into making a quality dish. In doing so, Kahiki is excited to see how consumers can enjoy and integrate their restaurant quality Asian frozen food brand into their daily lives and in combination with other ingredients to create dishes their families love.

“At Kahiki, we value our consumers’ opinions and appreciation for premium ingredients and quality products,” said Tim Tsao, V.P. Sales & Marketing, Kahiki Foods. “This contest is our way of thanking consumers for years of support for Kahiki Foods and allowing us the opportunity to see how our products have become a part of their family dinner table.”

Five Grand Prize winners will be chosen at the end of the contest period and awarded with free Kahiki products for a year. To enter the contest, individuals can either complete an entry form online at www.Kahiki.com or simply send a post card or 3” x 5” index card with their name, address and contact information, along with their original recipe to “The Asian Inspirations Recipe Contest” c/o 6116 Cleveland Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43231.
